1 Introduction

This deliverable (D1.9) looks at the ENUMERATE e-newsletters published in the second year of the project (February 2012 – February 2014), and is the last in a series of 3 such reports. It documents their content.

The newsletter aims to bring news, information and updates to the target community and stakeholders.

While the first year's e-newsletters were aimed at introducing the target community to the ENUMERATE project, its actors and core roles, the second and third years focussed on results and activities.

2 Newsletter design

The e-newsletters generally followed the design of the first year (see D1.5, Section 2 for full details), but with some subtle changes in order to maintain 'brand' identity. They were structured into the following sections:

- Editorial – Here Monika Hagedorn-Saupe (SPK), leader of the work package on People (Community Engagement), gave an introduction to the themes and information explored in the issue.
- Information and news – This is the largest section of the e-newsletter. The title of the main article is chosen reflect the contents.
- Meet the team – Presented person participating in the project. In addition to information about them it also said why they thought the project was important

This structure is maintained in all newsletter issues to express a corporate identity.

3 Newsletter No. 5 – October 2013

The fifth ENUMERATE e-newsletter's contained articles on:

- A First Look at the Thematic Survey Results – Overview of the results of the Thematic Surveys.
- ENUMERATE Core Survey 2 – Gives information about the background to the 2nd Core Survey and its implementation.
- Dissemination Highlights in 2013 so far – Looked at: the activities of ENUMERATE Focus Group on digital preservation; a presentation at WSIS event in Paris; the GLAM-Wiki conference, and the 3rd All Consortium Meeting in Vienna.
- Meet the team – Prof. Monika Hagedorn-Saupe – Highlighted her statistician background and her lead of WP1.

4 Newsletter No. 6 – February 2014

E-newsletter 6 covered:

- A First Look at the Core Survey 2 Results – Overview of the results of the 2nd Core survey, with some selected results.
- Dissemination Highlights at the end of 2013 – The impact of ENUMERATE in the Netherlands and looking forward to ENUMERATE activity in the Europeana v3 project.
- Meet the team – Mag. Gorazd Vodeb – Looked at his background and his role within ENUMERATE as an 'ordinary' member of the consortium.
